Alumni Day

Saturday, June 9, 1962, will witness the return of Gould Alumni to their high school campus. It is Alumni Day, and the renewal of old acquaintances will be highlighted by an Alumni Luncheon, softball game and baseball game.

Gould's Senior Girls have challenged the Alumnae to a softball game. It promises to be a thriller for those who attend it on the Girls' Athletic Field at 10 A. M.

The banquet, housed under a tent on Alumni Field, will begin at 12:30 P. M. The guest speaker will be Peter Garland, Congressman from Maine's First District. Words of welcome will be extended by Mr. Vachon and by Mr. Davidson, President of the Board of Trustees. Classes here for their five-year reunions will sing the songs that were popular at their graduation. The class of 1962, soon to join the ranks of graduates, will be the best represented.

The Alumni will meet the Gould team for a 3 o'clock baseball game on Alumni Field to be followed by the final event, a Headmaster's Tea at the Vachons' home from four to five. Then, once more, old classmates will part and return to their own homes and lives and there, give occasional reflection to days at Gould.

Outdoor Concert

Saturday, May 26, was cool and windy but many people joined together on the lawn in front of Hamscom Hall to hear the outdoor concert presented by the Varsity Glee Club and the Gould Academy Band. The program was as follows:

On Parade—March
G. E. Holmes
Fleur-de-lis J. Olivadoti
Festival of Youth
J. Olivadoti
Band
Goodnight My Someone
Meredith Willson
Yamila Schimmerling
Hey! Look Me Over
Cy Coleman
Chorus
Kammenoi Ostrow
Anton Reibinstuin

G. H. G. Rodriguy

Cybulka
Bugler's Holiday
Leroy Anderson
Trumpet Trio
Line Up—March

It is much harder to present an outdoor concert than most people realize, for there is no backdrop to muffle the sound. Mr. Owen has worked many, long hours to get the band and chorus in good shape for this concert. All members of both organizations join in saying thank you to Mr. Owen for a good year and wish him much success for next year.

The First Salute

The day in June 8, exams are over. You are sitting patiently in the seats waiting for class day exercises to begin. Soon the first strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" are heard and you feel that clutching at your throat as you remember or dream ahead. The sight of those solemn swaying figures never fails to stir the heart.

The skits follow in rapid order; Tony Moulton reads the last will with a gusto that belies his dignified exterior. Next, our own inimitable Carol Young writes an informative letter to Charlie telling him the recent goings on in Bethel. A balancing of the educational scales follows bringing back almost forgotten memories.

Mr. Vachon and Mr. Richardson then wheel out an impressive array of awards which range from plaques to music awards. Some of the graduates might find a sack handy for the copious amount of recognition they receive. The program is complete; the beginning of the end of a high school career is done.

And now the picnic!!

"Everybody in the bus! We're pullin' out!" Crowds of excited seniors will push their way into the bus, and off they will go to their picnic on Thompson Lake in Oxford, one of the highlights of the Commencement week-end.

Between dips in the lake and softball games on the beach, there will be time outs for sandwiches at dinner, and hot dogs and hamburgers at supertime.

"Hey, Roy! Wait for me!" Splash! Ooh—that cool water, but it will be refreshing.

So home again will come the seniors, tired but anxious for another big day tomorrow.

SUN SHINES ON GIRLS' OUTING

Sleeping bags, tents, boxes of food and forty-one noisy girls were piled into the bus taking off for Sebago Lake State Park.

After arriving everyone screamed with enthusiasm, unloaded the bus and began to explore the area. A cook-out supper of hot dogs, soda, and chips was devoured.

The weather was with us. The night air was quite warm. The actual hours of sleep that night were short—really short. Everyone wandered around the area, exploring (nature?). There were food raids, midnight swims. Some of the tents collapsed. Right Beth and Colleen? Some of the sleeping bags were given a little extra stuffing—pine needles. Were the pine needles soft DeeDee?

The morning was brisk and chilly, but a few managed to get to a breakfast of: french toast, eggs, pancakes, bacon, toast, oranges or even peanut butter and jelly sandwiches.

The main attraction that ial gathering. Here's to an extra-special time, with a touch of sophistication; the senior dinner dance promises to be fully as festive and enchanting as any previous commencement ball!

The Final Curtain Descends

Commencement

On June 10 the familiar strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" will resound on the Gould campus.

The Reverend Richard M. Hamilton will deliver the invocation, followed by "Yarmila", a Slovak folk tune, sung by the Varsity Glee Club.

Margaret Davis will deliver a salutatory entitled "Ask Rather What You Can Do for Your Country." "Salvation is Created," by Tachekoff will then be played by the band.

The guest speaker will be Dr. J. Seelye Bixler, President Emeritus of Colby College, after whose speech the traditional "Halls of Ivy" by Richard Knight will be sung.

A valedictory essay "Build Firm Foundations" will be delivered by Ira Hubbard.

The announcement of honors will be done by Mr. Vachon, and at long last the senior class will be presented their diplomas by Dr. Sidney Davidson, president of the Board of Trustees.

The Reverend Clifford W. Laws will then pronounce the benediction, and once again the Senior Class of 1962 will march down the path to "Pomp and Circumstance." For many the distance will seem interminable, stretching over years of endeavor, fun, and friendships. But there are many paths ahead, obscured in future's dim haze, and each of us sadly, yet somewhat hopefully, will follow these divers ways.

Baccalaureate

Sunday, June 10, 1962, will see the annual Gould Academy Baccalaureate Service at the West Parish Congregational Church.

As the Senior Class of 1962 marches solemnly down the aisle, led by the Class Marshal, Bruce Moulton, the thoughts of all will be upon one subject: graduation.

Four long, exhausting, yet rewarding years are drawing to a close. The memories which are to be carried away will be cherished throughout the rest of their lives and the peace and serenity of the church will lend to impress more forcibly upon all those present the blessings and good fortune which have enabled each and every one to attain his present status in life.

The program is scheduled to begin promptly at 11 o'clock: Mr. James Owen, conducting the choir, will start the proceedings.

The scheduled program is as follows:

Organ Prelude, Mr. E. Ward Steady, Berlin, New Hampshire

Processional, the Congregation standing

Invocation, the Reverend Clifford W. Laws, West Parish Congregational Church, Bethel, Maine

Scripture reading, Ecclesiasticus 6:32-37, Chaplain (CDR) Charles W. Nelson, U.S.N. (Ret.)

Anthem, the Choir, "Lacrymosa," W. A. Mozart

Prayer, the Reverend Richard M. Hamilton, Minister, Methodist Church, Bethel, Maine

Gould Hymn, the Congregation and Choir

Sermon, the Reverend Merwin M. Deems, D. D., Dean, Bangor Theological Seminary

Benediction, the Rev. Clifford W. Laws

Recessional, the Congregation standing

The Seniors, as they march for the last time out the door, carry with them the hopes and expectations of all those who have aided and guided each one as they traversed the path of learning. As the glow of youth and ambition are reflected upon their faces, we rest easy knowing the future is theirs.

dried and clothed from their swim, they gorged themselves with food prepared by the Vintons with the help of Mrs. Vachon and then were entertained by a group of Wesleyan juniors — guests of John Vinton, Gould '59.

Next came the initiation, managed by Mr. Vinton, whose gags are unparalleled. After some games, from which Wesleyan emerged victorious — trouncing even the members of Gould's faculty present, the scholars reluctantly turned their backs to Kezar Lake and prepared for the bone-grinding trip back to Gould in the Crackerbox.

National Honor Society Initiation

After school on Wednesday, May 23, the veterans of the National Honor Society escorted the new members to the Vintons' camp on Kezar Lake for the official initiation. On arrival all met the happy smiles of Mr. and Mrs. Vinton and then headed for the lake.

In Retrospect

"But at my back I always hear Time's winged chariot hurrying near." With the close of another school year, it would be well to pause a moment to think on this phrase. A few questions might be in order: Who has been the victor in your individual battle with this relentless man-made measure called time, which doggedly pursues our every action? An end is inevitable, but how well and to what advantage and profit have you used the time allotted to you? Achievement, as was keynoted in an editorial last fall, should form the very steadfast basis for all thoughts of the future. Has such achievement, both tangible and intangible, been realized in the past nine months?

So often the compulsion to achieve an end result takes on such an air of anxiety and haste—an "I must get it done" attitude, that we fail to gain the truly meaningful experience which would broaden us emotionally, physically, and mentally.

Whether the goal be strengthening a weak backhand in tennis, perfecting the last few pages of "Rhapsody in Blue," or gaining a greater proficiency in French, the determination to fulfill such desires must be accompanied by the realization that a worthwhile objective can only result from a sustained effort.

To look forward into the future, yes—but also to ponder the past that a better future may follow—this is the ideal.

M. D. D.

Summertime . . . And the Living is Easy!

Summertime! A time to relax under the golden sun on a pearly beach or wade in a crystal mountain stream.

But do we really appreciate this? Summer is a time for beach parties, sailing, traveling, just having a good time. And it should be—a time to get away from math problems and themes. We've worked hard all winter and we've earned this time to relax. But do we really relax, or are we on the go all the time, rushing from one party to the next?

Do you ever take a book out in a field and read, let yourself wander into another world, unwind? Do you ever sit by a lake on a warm night and simply think about the world and your aim in life? Do you walk through the woods and contemplate on the life of birds, their freedom and yet their striving to keep alive? Do they envy us or pity us?

We are so concerned with our daily living that we fail to pause and give our minds the freedom of thought that they really deserve—the liberty to ponder the unknown and imagine fantasy. This is real relaxation!

Let's take time this summer to enjoy Nature and the world around us!

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

BONNIE EAMES

Whenever anyone mentions "P. F.," one immediately thinks of the organization's president, Bonnie Eames, who has been an active member during her four years at Gould Academy. Bonnie has also been quite active in the girls' sports organizations which has resulted in her active membership in the Girls' A. A. which recently awarded her a medal for her achievements in skating. She has been on the writing staff of the "Blue and Gold" and has worked on the Academy Herald. She has maintained a highly commendable scholastic average while here at Gould, placing fourteenth in her class of seventy-six, and was elected to membership in the National Honor Society this spring.

However, her talents do not lie fully in this field, for she has also added her part to the Varsity Glee Club and choir of the Congregational Church where she has been a great help in the Sunday School Department. During her junior year, she was elected by the Bethel Jaycees as this area's candidate for Girls' State, a position which was well deserved.

Next year Bonnie will be a member of the freshman class of Gorham State Teacher's College where she will major in elementary education. Wherever she goes we know she will be successful, but we'll add our bit too. Best of luck to you, Bonnie!

SHARON COLE

H-O-W-I-E! Such a cry is not uncommon in the corridors of Gehring Hall's second floor, for Sharon Cole, far better known as Howie, a vivacious fun-loving ash-blond, can always be counted on to lend an air of merriment and fun to any venture or gathering.

Many campus organizations count Howie as an active and contributing member. Christmas Vespers found her raising her voice with others of the Glee Club in the majestic Hallelujah Chorus. The "Blue and Gold" numbers bear among its most imaginative feature writers; her accounts of such events as the two dorm parties have brought forth many a chuckle. The "Academy Herald" staff provides another outlet for her writing abilities.

The cheerleading squad would hardly have been complete without that unmistakable Massachusetts accent cheering the team with a ringing G-O-U-L-D!

On the Outing Club executive council Howie holds the position of treasurer. The ski season found her on the Sunday River slopes attempting to get down the hill without picking up a trace of that telltale white.

If you spy a white-clad figure darting about the tennis courts whipping the ball over the net with a smashing forehand or lending instruction to a neophyte, it's sure to be Howie. Naturally, she supports the A. A. as manager of said sport.

Proof that, despite all her activities, she has not neglected her studies is offered by her acceptance to Simmons College where her exuberant nature and sincerity of manner will doubtless designate her as an individual to get to know.

RAFAEL GUTIERREZ

The recent Cuban Revolution has had generally detrimental effects upon the strained world situation. The number of those who have profited in part from the Revolution is minute. We at Gould are among those few.

In January, 1961, Arturo and Rafael Gutierrez, because of the Revolution, transferred from school in Cuba to Gould. Arturo graduated last June; Rafael graduates this June 10th.

At Gould Rafael has been most distinguished by his individuality and excellence. From his singular profile to his drum renditions on desks, lightshades, and walls there is only one Rafael. He is perhaps the only dorm student who is equally comfortable in a short-sleeved shirt in the middle of January or July. He daily consumption of fried pork rinds has become a legend.

His scholastic excellence is testified to by his rank in the top ten in the Senior Class. He has achieved this, and here he will argue that he is the laziest person alive, through hard and diligent work.

To say that Rafael is popular is to severely understate the case. He is not only popular, he is tremendously and universally popular here at school. When he was presented a literary award by Mr. Vachon in noon assembly, he received the most thunderous ovation from the faculty and student body that has ever been given any student.

Next year Rafael will attend the Georgia Institute of Technology where his father will instruct. His ambition after college is modest. He wants to become, in the grand manner of Ibsen and Maugham, one of the greats of literature. Along the way he will pick up a few such inconsequentials as the Pulitzer and Noble Prizes for literature as well as a few doctorates which he will deign to accept from the better colleges.

Rafael, in the short time we have known him, has displayed a character which is unique in its flexibility and completeness. With the maturity which the next few years and completeness. With the maturity which the next few years will bring, he will be well equipped to achieve his hopes....

GOULD HANDS BRIDGTON LOSS

On May 15 the Huskies continued their unbeaten streak in the Western Maine Conference standings with a 5-2 win over Bridgton in a game played at Bridgton.

The Huskies reached Kenton Richardson for a single in the fifth and ninth innings. Both Bridgton runs came in the sixth inning.

GOULD SCORES AGAINST FRYEBURG

On Saturday, May 12, Gould traveled to Fryeburg, winning handily, 13 to 7.

The Huskies combined eight hits and eight walks for thirteen big runs and led throughout the contest, scoring nine runs in the first three innings.

Pitcher Bruce Moulton, making his first start, kept the Fryeburg team in line, limiting them to only one hit in the first five innings. However, he tired in the 8th and needed help from Don Nowlin in gaining his first victory.

GOULD DOWNS MEXICO

On May 9, defending Gould continued unbeaten in Western Maine Conference standings with a 6-3 triumph over Mexico. Pitcher Charlie Newell nailed the Pintos down to only four hits, walking five and striking out 18 batters.

Owen Melville got the Huskies off in the right foot with a three run double in the second, following three bases on balls. Mexico picked up singles in the second, third, and sixth innings.

NOTRE DAME DEFEATS GOULD

Notre Dame of Berlin, New Hampshire, defeated the Huskies in a game here on May 8 by the decisive score of 6-2.

The game was heightened by a grand slammer by Rooney of Notre Dame. Notre Dame got off to a good start by clutching a four run lead in the first inning.

GOULD EXCORIATED; MORSE TRIUMPHS

On Saturday, May 26, Gould's Huskies journeyed to Lewiston, Maine, for the annual Andy Valley track competition held at Garcelon Field at Bates College.

Gould, the only Class M school among the giants, wound up in last place, however, Gould is an inexperienced team and has shown tremendous improvement in this season.

The competition on the mud-flat track was fierce among the many fine athletes present.

Commeau was the miracle man of the meet, winning the broad jump, 100 yard and 220 yard dashes. His Morse teammate, Shulten, who won the discus and placed in the shot, 100 yard, and broad jump, and Burgess, who won the mile and 880—establishing a new record in the former, greatly aided Morse's close victory over Edward Little.

Twenty-one of Gould's twenty-five points were scored in the distance runs. Fred Judkins was Gould's high scorer with eight points from two seconds in the mile and 880. In the two mile, Gould's strongest event, Ed Tibbetts became Gould's sole winner while Dock and Grover placed fourth and fifth after sloshing the grueling distance.

In the final scoring, Morse won with 73½ points, followed by Edward Little with 67½ points, Rumford with 57, Gould with 25½, and Lewiston with ??.

GOULD EDGES OXFORD HILLS

On Saturday, May 5, the Huskies traveled to Oxford Hills, winning a hard-fought battle by a score of 3 to 2.

Singles by Owen Melville and Steve Saunders and a run-producing double by Captain Emmy Merrill in the eighth, gave Gould the game-deciding run.

Winning pitcher Charlie Newell limited the hosts to four scattered hits, while striking out eight and walking only two.

HUSKIES DOWN BRIDGTON

By easily trouncing Bridgton High School 15-5 on May 25, the defending Huskies were almost sure of retaining the Western Maine Conference baseball crown. It was the seventh win in eight league starts.

Charlie Newell's pitching gave Bridgton four hits, including a pair of two-run homers; he struck out 12 batters and walked 3. The Huskies got 17 hits off of four pitchers. Owen Melville, Dave Hawkes, and Emmy Merrill each got three hits, and Dale Stevens, Steve Saunders, and Scott Cummings each had two safeties.

MECHANIC FALLS DEFATS GOULD

On May 22, the Gould Huskies suffered their first defeat at the hands of Mechanic Falls. It was a close game for the opening seven innings, before the Wildcats erupted for eight runs in the eighth to win the contest, 13 to 7.

Gene Morrell went the route for the winners, gaining his first victory after four previous defeats.

Bruce Moulton and Ashley of Mechanic Falls each had two safeties in four trips to the plate, and Captain Emmy Merrill slammed a home run.

STATE MEET

Gould ended the 1962 track season Saturday, June 2, by participating in the 20th annual Class M State Championships held at Bangor's Garland Field. Ten-time winners, the young Husky team finished in a reputable sixth place, twelve points behind champion Kennebunk.

In a field of 13 schools, Gould placed four men, tallying a total of 26 points. Fred Judkins accounted for half the score, breezing to an easy 4:36 victory in the mile and taking a strong second in the 880. Ed Tibbetts won the grueling two-mile run in 10:36, but failed to break the record set by teammate Judkins last year. Paul Hamilton, hampered by a broken toe, managed to place in two events, fourth in the discus and fifth in the javelin, with throws of 123 feet and 140 feet respectively. Sophomore Corey Brown blazed to a 54.6 fourth place in an exceptionally fast 440 (winning time was 51.3) to complete the Huskies' threat.

Other Gould competitors were: Al Ring, Bill Stowell, Steve Groves, Russell Spooner, Dan Grover, Steve Dock, George Eypner, Jim Corriveau, Sam Bartholomew, and Bruce Lane.

HUSKIES WIN IN 10th

On Friday, June 1, Gould's baseball team wound up its official season with a 9-1 record by defeating Mexico 5-3 in a ten-inning contest interrupted twice by rain.

The Huskies' ace hurler, Charlie Newell, went the route, giving up only five hits, two walks, and striking out seven. Newell tied the game in the seventh with his second home run of the season.

Mexico's pitcher, Greg Gallant, pitched a fine ball game, allowing the Huskies only seven hits, but his eight walks kept him in hot water throughout the contest.

Gould reached Gallant for two runs in the tenth on three singles, a walk and a sacrifice hit. Mexico picked up single runs in the middle three frames.

LATHER AT THE TOP

Because of the popular use of detergents, our public waterways are becoming a source of suds. Some states have taken steps to discover a neutralizer for this type of pollution; an organic detergent which goes back to the soil would be a boon. It is the public that is doing the contaminating, mainly through the re-use of tributaries. Unless a cure is found or pollution is checked, Americans may soon be turning to their faucets for wash water!
